OURSELVES

Southern Regional Conference : A Conference of representatives of the States of Andhra Pradesh, Kerala, Mysore and Madras was held at Ootacamund on 25th and 26th May '57 with the main object of taking necessary steps to consolidate and expand the organisation of the Bharat Scouts and Guides within the Southern Region comprising of the States of Andhra Pradesh, Kerala, Mysore and the Tamil Nad. It was also the purpose of this Conference to bring to the notice of the Central Organisation at New Delhi that the Southern Region needed attention. The resolutions passed at this Conference to achieve the object in view are published elsewhere in the Bulletin.

The Conference was very helpful in bringing the representatives together not merely for exchange of views but more, to understand the working of the Organisations in these States. There is need for bringing the States in line with a progressive policy based on the conditions existing in, and requirements of these various States both in relation to the Government and the public. While each State will look after its own affairs, that which is common to the Southern States for the development of the movement in the South will be considered.

by this Conference from time to time.

A highly necessary step: This is a highly necessary step and we are glad to note that this has been possible. This step should not be misunderstood as one opposed to the All India Unity and integrity, on the other hand this is only to strengthen the solidarity of our Organisation in the country. Every Scout or Guide is first an Indian and last an Indian and that conception and ideal will ever be borne in mind by every one coming under the Bharat Scouts and Guides in India. While this is so, it is our bounden duty to consolidate and expand within the region, so that the fullest benefit of Scouting and Guiding can be conferred on the children that join us.

Independence Day Parade: The Government of Madras has requested our Association to take part in the Independence Day Ceremonial Parade on 15th August 1957 at the Island grounds when the Governor of Madras Mr.

A. J. John will be present and take the salute. It has been suggested that 100 Scouts and 50 Guides should take part in the March-past. Rehearsals are being held regularly at the State Headquarters. It is hoped that our Scouts and Guides will acquit themselves creditably at the parade even better than the previous years. In the mofussil Districts also we hope Scouts and Guides will take part in the Ceremonial Parade in co-operation with the Government Officers in charge. Report of such activities may be sent to the State Headquarters for information.

Camp Sites: We are glad to learn that Salem has been fortunate in acquiring 10 acres of Government land free of cost to be used as the Camp site. This Camp site is about 13 miles from Salem, on the Salem-Cuddalore route. There are nearly 100 Mango trees forming into a fine grove and a dozen huge tamarind trees besides other trees. The land will worth about Rs. 25,000/- and admits of a very fine Camping Centre to be developed. Already Training Courses were held for Officers and one such was visited by our Chief Minister Mr. Kamaraj Nadar who not only addressed the Campers, but stayed for dinner (of the Camp type) and enjoyed his stay thoroughly.

The National Council has scheduled to develop 80 Campsites in the country during the Second Five Year Plan period. At the Council meeting held recently in Bombay, Madras was allotted six Camp sites and out of the grant available each Campsite will be given funds for equipments necessary. It is hoped atleast a lakh of Rupees will be made available for the purpose in our State. We have now the Stanley Park Training Centre at Coonoor which is fast developing into a Regional Camping Centre for the South. Besides we have now this Camp site at Salem and a site to be handed over to us at Courtallam. (Tirunelveli District) and another site again to be handed over at Arni in North Arcot District. Madurai has made its choice of a site, and has applied for financial help. Tanjore and Coimbatore have also set about choosing Campsites. There should be one very near Madras—the Corporation of Madras is proposing to develop a site for Madras. We have the Evans Park in Tirunelveli District which is being managed by the Tuticorin Local Association. We have the Silver-Fish Bungalow and site gifted by Miss G. Pakenham Walsh, the most active District Commissioner—Guides, at Tirunelveli. We hope when these are established there will be sufficient scope for Camping out for our Scouts and Guides throughout our State.

Commissioners Training Course: Elsewhere is published a report of the Training Course by a Camper (a Guide Commissioner). We are glad to note that the Camp has been very useful. More such Camps are needed and we hope large number of young men and women will attend these Courses.

Bharat Scouts and Guides and 1st Class Scouts and Guides Rally :

A Rally of Bharat Scouts and Guides and 1st Class Scouts and Guides in India is proposed to be held at Delhi in the last week of October 1957. This will be an All India Rally, each State sending a Contingent of their 1st Class Scouts and Guides and Bharat Scouts and Guides to participate in the Rally. The Commissioners are requested to send the names of the Scouts and Guides coming under this category in their Districts, to the State Headquarters before 7th of August 1957. The Scouts and Guides should not exceed the Scout and Guide age on 20th October 1957. The object of this Rally is not only to give every encouragement to the 1st Class and Bharat Scouts and Guides, to come together and demonstrate the value of such standards of efficiency, but also to make them feel that they belong to a great country in which they will as future citizens, play their important part. We trust that a good contingent of such Scouts and Guides will represent our State at this Rally.

Rural Scout Leaders' Training Camp, Bavanisagar

SURROUNDED by hills in the midst of a thick reserve forest alongside a wild stream is Bannari, six miles from Bavanisagar, an ideal camping place for all sections of Scouters. A real jungle atmosphere for Cubs, a suitable country for romance for Scouts and hiking for Rovers—all these are combined in this camp site. It was here that fifty-seven Gram Sevaks of the Extension Training Centre hailing from Tinnevely, Madurai and Ramnad districts received their inspiration as Rural Scout Leaders at a ten days training camp from 19th to 29th June '57. It was a novel and pleasant experience for the Camp Officer, who was privileged to conduct a camp of this kind for the first time training the future Rural Scout Leaders in all the three sections of Scouting at a stretch. Patrol System was strictly followed in all activities and training the individual for personal leadership was aimed at. Plenty of opportunities were afforded for out-door practices and a full day was set apart for hiking, at the end of which the campers enjoyed a three-hours' stay at Chola Thittu, a place which is 3000 ft. high on the hills. Sri K. Santanam, Principal, Extension Training Centre, Bavanisagar, who presided over the closing function, was much impressed with the discipline of the campers and the efficiency and progress shown by the trainees. Let me thank Sri V. S. Ratnasabapathy, our popular State Secretary, for giving me the opportunity of training 57 future workers of our Youth organisation.

Impressions of the Commissioners Course

WHEN I first heard of Stanley Park and its activities while holidaying in Coonoor sheer curiosity took me to the site. Little did I dream then that 3 years later I would camp for a week in one of the loveliest spots in South India. Anticipation of this event had kept me happy and excited for a few days before the camp began, but when I arrived on the spot the real beauty of the place exceeded my wildest imaginations, over-whelmed me and held me spell-bound.

It was late spring. The rush of sap in the trees could almost be heard. The sign of great undertaking by nature filled me who had come in a holiday mood, with a "sudden uneasiness of contrast." This chosen spot had beauty, grandeur, salubrity and remoteness. There was nothing jarring which could disturb one's perfect mental unity with the sentiment of the place. Even the huts were painted green and the green paint and the greener colouring of leaves with a shade of brown on the stems scarcely seen, were soothing to the eyes and brought to my mind the most beautiful line in Marvell :

"Annihilating all that is made into a green thought in a green shade."

Surely this was a wonderful place to camp, away from all the din and noise of cities and towns and I was actually aware that I and everybody else would enjoy every minute of our stay there.

My friend and I were among the first few to arrive and slowly one by one the rest dribbled in. Ordinarily the short awkward interval before the introductions take place, would have been difficult to bridge, for a sense of decorum and dignity would have prevented us from moving on a footing of such close friendliness. But we were all brother Scouts and sister Guides and very soon we were on the friendliest of friendly terms.

Refreshed by a sumptuous tea which gave fillip to our flagging spirit, we assembled for the preliminary talk and the round of introductions. That brief hour sufficed to give us an indication of what we could expect in the days to come. Strict and sharp, yet witty and jovial, with a capacity to ease tension and to create an atmosphere of harmony and friendliness, our camp chief helped us considerably to adjust ourselves to the new company and to the new surroundings. We understood that the best material would be handed to us in the most interesting and brilliant manner and that we were really lucky to be able to receive the benefit of his advice and instruction and so we alerted ourselves with pleasure. One observation will not be out of place here. While we had come with the intention of living in harmony, sinking our differences and accepting each other's limitations and allowing each one's character and personality to act and react on the others so that everybody benefited by this interaction, I noticed by close observation that even before the introductions took place, each one (at least 60% of us) had by a first glimpse of acceptance singled out one or two other individuals with whom he would be closely associated throughout the camp while with the others he would be on varying degrees of acquaintance. Accordingly, when the friend or friends to be, revealed their identities, the one concerned was alert and pleased to be enlightened, while he showed an indifference or at least a proportionately diminished interest when others announced themselves. This is a common human weakness no doubt, I wondered how it manifested itself in a Scout camp among Scouters and Guiders under a climate and surrounding bound to resist the formation of such small groups.

The rollicking mirth that usually goes with a camp-fire was absent that evening for we were tired out by a long and tedious journey. When we assembled for the last item of the day, some of us settled to somnolence, while others put forth a supreme effort to resist the charms of sleep. Besides, we were yet unused to the unrestrained and uninhibited atmosphere and hence all at the latent talents could not blaze forth in brilliant display. Only a few songs were sung that night and when the day closed with a short prayer, we were all very relieved.

But our headache was to commence the next day at 5-30 in the morning. While holidaying in the hills I have never seen the light of day before 8 a.m. and sceptical of my powers to rise early I had taken an alarm timepiece with me; but when its clear metallic ring rang out at 5 O'clock, my first impulse (and that of many others in our hut) was to smother its vociferous clamour and sleep far into the day later to wake up and return home. But commonsense asserted itself and we submitted to the rigour of discipline and set about our work, at first unwillingly and reluctantly like Shakespeare's school boy but sans tears, sans grumbling and sans complaints.

Since we wished to have our bath the first thing in the morning, a couple of us rose earlier than the others and this time coincided with the break of day. It was lovely, lovely to watch the crack of dawn, to see the last trace of fog rise up and withdraw leaving the place to enjoy God's own Light. In a place still untouched by the ravaging hand of civilisation, at such a time standing alone for a moment breathing in the pure air, drinking in the new light, one finds himself in silent communion with the Supreme Power, realises the great Glory of Man and chastened by this new experience, aware of the beauty of life, and the magnitude of the human soul, he becomes humble and brushes aside all bad thoughts and dedicates himself to a purpose. We too made our vows that morning and the rejuvenating experience gave added fillip to our already enthusiastic spirit and feeling the new burst of energy in our veins, we went through the day's work in a high tempo—a tempo which lasted throughout the week and even later.

The morning cup of coffee intended to warm us up was really an apology for coffee. But those of us who were a little inclined to flavour this cup with a little gossip or conversation, delightfully procrastinating over it had to face the thunder, fire and fury of the chief who, punctual to minute, was already on the sports ground waiting for his not so disciplined flock to file up leisurely.

The physical exercises provided a wealth of amusement. Old age did not wish to be left behind and youth wished to display its abundant energy and all combined to produce a marvellous chaos of jerks, lacking the beautiful rhythmic movement characteristic of a drill by a trained troop. But human nature is such that each one looked at his neighbour; saw that he was no better than himself and took pride in his own achievements.

But everything had been planned with a view to benefit us and the exercises and games were probably meant to take us into close contact with nature and make us realise that the sources of happiness and enjoyment of life – in short the best things in life are free. While we loosened our muscles stiff with cold, "Thanked God for the fresh air and blessed our friends", Mother Nature in her creative mood of silent action, inculcated a serene and comprehending mood in all of us and acting on our dormant spirit brought us more alive than we have been for a long time with the result that we became young in spirit, with the same endless energy, exuberance of spirit and unlimited capacity for action that boys and girls show all over the world. The game of Freeze we played with all the enthusiasm of a child of 7. Of those who played it and of those who watched it, I bet there is no one who can easily forget it. There were other games which transported us to the realms of sheer joy. Perhaps, because we played children's games or perhaps it was due to our newly adjusted outlook, there was an inexplicable difference between playing games elsewhere and playing them on the grounds of Stanley Park.

Back from exercise, we would scramble for chota and then get ready for kit inspection. From my experience of what happened in our hut I can say this inspection is a farce. Ten minutes before schedule, nine pairs of feet would be scurrying in and outside the hut in a frantic effort to collect all the things and heap them in a presentable pile and cover them with a blanket. Things that had escaped attention would be picked up in the last minute and shoved under the blanket. But 10 minutes after the inspection a visitor to the hut would find a maze of blankets, beds, baskets, holdalls, bags and beds thrown in rich confusion which would invalidate the purpose of the inspection itself. Perhaps a surprise inspection would produce better results.

The breakfast and lunch breaks were intervals of greatest interest. They provided the ground bass to the music of our happy camp life. At this time everyone glowed and expanded and untrammelled wit flowed freely to the delight of one and all. Comments acid, asinine, unpredictably sharp, biting, cynical, complimentary, blessing or blasting whipped past in the air to and fro in diverse languages and in a rich variety of accents. For the silent one prone to be observant and watchful, here was a mine of mirthful laughter.

Capping everything else came the camp-fire time. Long after this time was over after the last whistle had been sounded, far into the stillness of light one could hear echoes of this happy hour. Items would be repeated, then, a second, a third or a fourth time without losing anything of its intrinsic value and everyone would try to smother her laughter and shake and shiver in the attempt. But what diversity of talent, originality and ingenuity we had in our midst! Puzzles, plays, songs, stories and all aspects of theatrical or dramatic entertainment poured forth, before the camp fire, like a fierce tornado carrying everyone with its current. On the first two nights, we were shy and reserved unable to break through a barrier self-imposed by a consciousness of self-respect. But slowly and gradually, as enthusiasm kindled and grew, as we adjusted ourselves to the atmosphere of uninhibited joy, as the architecture of ideas began to take shape in our minds, the items improved and delighted us more and more till the last two camp fires remain like two flashes of happiness in an otherwise normal life.

The very Gods must have been jealous of our happiness for two days later the rains came. Oh! how it rained and rained continuously for 3 days till our spirits were curbed and our enthusiasm abated. Outings were not possible and most of the time we spent indoors and thus half the joy of an open air camp life was missed.

Our first few sessions held in the chequered shade of a sequestered woodland scene were idyllic. But what caught our imagination was the enthusiasm, the cheerfulness that Mr. Muthiah invested his lectures with and the lofty idealism of his lectures. His was an artistic performance that sparkled and flowed and managed to amuse. In him vigour and strength seemed to grow with age, and energy flowed with the terrifying force of a lava flow.

Perhaps it would be presumptuous of me to say so, but we had four very good instructors. Mr Chatterjee with her genial temperament and embullience and a voice that gave one the impression that she heartily enjoyed speaking every word that she uttered was the general favourite. In all the time that she was with us. I never saw her face without its perpetual expression of hearty glee. Mr. Muthiah whose dynamic personality expressed itself with an electric force, Mr. V. S. Ratnasabhapathy calm and dignified and Mr. Messiah Doss the quiet and the most practical man of the lot by their very nature, temperament and efficiency played a great part in influencing our camp life. In this connection, I should not forget to mention Mr. Ramasamy, who though not an instructor, played no mean part, for he was the live wire of the camp, always on the run and ever ready to help. Their enthusiasm and confidence communicated itself to us and day by day we grew in stature and self-confidence.

In all the instruction classes apart from the technical details explained one point was emphasised and all the instructors shared this view that the Commissioner should be a man of intellectual integrity, with a strong moral fibre and wide vision, with a deep and abiding faith in the power for good within the human race, with ideas that could be brought alive, vitality that could be spent and integrity that could be tested; a man of position and influence who enjoyed the confidence of the public, a magnetic personality socially trained and intellectually educated and cultured. At first we despaired of reaching that ideal but took heart since it was the ideal and should be beyond our grasp and our best endeavour should be to strive towards it. Man's insatiable desire to progress will always drive him onward and in this Scout movement for the brilliant and scintillating mind the canvas is high and broad enough to work on.

We loved those sessions which were like discussions when a suggestion was thrown to the group inviting comments. Many contributed to the discussion and to the individual, who had made the study of human character his hobby, this was a great opportunity, for, each one's opinions, and thoughts expressed, opened the window of his soul, the gateway to his personality. I got to know my friends much better during this time than during the hours spent in introducing ourselves.

On the day of departure everyone experienced mingled feelings of happiness and regret.—happy to get back to our circle where our duties lay and regret to leave behind a period of joyful living and to break away from a company which contributed so much towards that happiness. No one who has spent a week here will deny that it has helped to broaden his vision and widen his horizon. Neither will he deny that the week had been a time of unadulterated joy for him. In many of us the lively spirit, the zest for life, the joy devoured was bubbling and boiling over, infecting the more sombre ones and galvanising and animating the entire camp. In spite of the diversity in age and temperament, we could see merry faces everywhere, joyous greetings and hear sounds of humming, chanting and melodious music. The whole place was radiant with mirth and jollity and one wondered why such warmth and happiness of spirit could not be extended to the larger spheres of life:

It is not given to everyone to be creatively active and good and bring happiness to hundreds and instil the ideals of service, duty and optimism in the hearts of youth. On the final day this thought came to me with magnetic force and when I looked back on the time spent in the camp, with the unattached sentimentality of a departing exile, I realised how much, life there, helped and equipped us in discharging this unique duty. In the course of this training, we had to endure some physical discomforts. When the rains came, our beds were wet from leaks in the roof, and at times it was positively cold and we were soaked and shivering. But these discomforts taught us to rise a little above the carcass and be able to "elevate one's mental life out of its reach".

BEING convinced that the development of the New India including the attainment of the goal set in the Second Five Year Plan is the responsibility of every citizen:—

We, the assembled members of the following voluntary agencies:

1. Akhil Hind Yuvak Sangh.
2. All India Women's Conference.
3. Balkan-ji-bari.
4. Bharat Sevak Samaj

5. Bharat Scouts & Guides.
6. Indian Conference of Social Work.
7. Guild of Service.
8. Indian Adult Education Association.

15. Women's Savings Campaign.

have met together to share our thinking and how best voluntary social agencies in India can assist in these development programme, hereby submit the following recommendations:—

The agencies dealing with children make the following recommendations.

1. The media of information such as illustrated booklets for children; simple talks in story form; radio programme for children and by them; formation of A. I. K. clubs for children; simple songs written in popular tunes; special exhibitions for children—of photographs, models, posters and handicrafts; film shows excursions to nearby projects; day camps for learning through simple play, games, sports, songs, activities; organised quiz contests; inter-school debates; camp fire; scrap book of newspaper advertisements and pictures related to special projects in the plan, prepared by the children; simple articles in children's corners in the newspapers and journals, melas, fairs and festivals especially arranged for children and drama and playlets by and for children; be utilised for dissemination of information about the second five year plan to children and through them.

2. In using the above mentioned media, effort be made to present a total picture of the second five year plan as a whole in all its aspects with special emphasis on subjects which are of interest to children and are understandable by them. The presentation and interpretations should be simple and the emphasis should be on the part the children can play in the national development.

3. The National Voluntary Child Welfare Agencies, the Regional Welfare Agencies, carrying out child welfare work take up as part of their programme some of the activities suggested above for dissemination of information about the plan to the children and through them and for implementing the aspects of the plan related to children, by utilising the facilities and financial assistance being provided under the plan.

4. The Voluntary Agencies help the children to utilise and take advantage of all medical and public health services provided under the plan

5. For promotion of better nutrition among children and nursing mothers, all voluntary agencies be requested to make it part of their programme to distribute milk and multi-purpose food, whenever possible to children and mothers.

6. Where schools are available the voluntary agencies guide and assist parents to send their children to schools especially girls and where such facilities are lacking, they should invite the attention of the government bodies to fulfil this need to the extent the provision has been made under the second five year plan.

7. In the field of pre-primary education the voluntary agencies take the initiative with the assistance provided in the plan for establishing nursery and kindergarten schools.

8. The voluntary agencies also take the initiative in planning organised recreational activities for children of both rural and urban areas. Special attention should be given for providing such services for children living in the congested areas of the cities. Children's Clubs and libraries should be some of the special features of the organised recreational programme.

9. As a preventive measure for juvenile delinquency, the voluntary agencies provide homes for vagrant and destitute children, giving educational and technical training as well as recreational and cultural facilities to such socially handicapped children.

10. The Voluntary Agencies make a beginning for meeting the needs of the mentally handicapped children by opening small experimental centres for residential or non-residential care of such a group.

11. The Child Welfare Agencies already engaged in research on child welfare and those which can equip themselves for doing such work undertake studies and surveys on the needs and interests of children as well as on the problems of the physically, mentally and socially handicapped children.

12. The Voluntary Agencies give a lead in focussing the attention of the public and the governmental bodies to the unmet needs of children in the community and finding ways and means of meeting such needs through the resources available from the public and governmental sources.

The Bharat Scouts and Guides

MADRAS STATE

A meeting of the Sub Committee on Better Scouting was held at Kodaikanal on the 27th, 28th & 29th of April '57 to consider the replies received from the Scouters and Guiders from all over the State.

Members Present :

Dr. K. G. Ramabadran.

Mr. V. S. Ratnasabhapathy and Mrs. D. L. G. Ratnam.

The replies to the Questionnaire circulated earlier were considered in detail under each head from the Questionnaire. The following are the opinions and recommendations of the Sub-Committee on the basis of the replies received.

1. Routine.

2. Training: It was found that some of the Scouters and Guiders have not undergone even the preliminary courses of training. This procedure is not in order as these leaders will be unable to contribute to the efficient working of the group.

The trained leaders need Refreshers' Courses of training atleast once in every three years to keep themselves up to the required standards. Therefore refresher's Courses should be conducted frequently at District levels.

3. The required statistics were not properly given. The inability to provide this statistics show that the leaders are not able to gain the progress of the group because proper records are not maintained and there has not been any continuity of action in the Groups.

Recommended that the groups maintain proper records and strive for the maintenance of continued progress in the working of the group

4. It is disappointing to find that there is no Bharat Scout and that there are only very few 1st Class Scouts and Guides. Most of them are in the initial stages even though they have been in the movement for quite some time. This stagnancy is a great block to any progress. Therefore strong and urgent measures are to be taken to rectify this state of affairs at group levels.

5 & 6 Uniforms: Most of the groups have uniforms and in a few cases lack of finance seems to stand in the way.

We are of the opinion that children be encouraged to earn their own uniforms. In special needy cases, the aid of sponsoring authority or the Group Committees may be sought.

The Scarves being the property of the group, they be supplied by the sponsoring authority.

8, 9, 10 Badges: Unavailability of the badges is the main complaint. While some schools are helping in the purchase of badges others do not.

We are of the opinion that the badges be purchased by the sponsoring authority and presented to the boys and girls. The proper wearing of the badges should be insisted upon by the leaders. Children be encouraged to proudly own their Proficiency Badges by paying for them.

11. Weekly meetings of groups are held mostly.

Just regular meetings alone do not ensure progress. The following time schedule is recommended.

(a) Within the 1st year of enrollment—The Tender Pad and Tenderfoot stages be reached within four months.

Single Star and II Class stages be reached before the end of the year.

(b) Before the end of the 2nd year, Two Stars and First Class stages be reached.

(c) By the end of three or four years, the Bharat Scouts and Guides stage should be aimed at.

12. Group meetings are held mostly outside School hours. We are of opinion that it is always advisable to hold the group meetings outside School hours and the teachers be compensated for atleast by two periods of leisure per week.

13. Camps: According to reports received camps conducted are very few.

Recommended that each group should camp at least twice a year out of which one must be an overnight camp. It is necessary that there should be one central camp at the District level every year. At the State level, a central camp be held once in two years.

14. Funds for Camps: Most of the groups report that they do not receive any financial assistance from the Schools for Camps.

Recommended that the management of Schools should devote a major portion of the Camp expenses from their Excursion and Scouting fund. It shall be incumbent on every School to collect this fund and utilise it for this purpose within the year.

15, 16, & 17: All report that they follow the Patrol System. Regarding their efficiency replies, received are not satisfactory.

Recommended that the Patrol System be fully utilised in all Groups and that Patrol Leaders and Seconds be given periodical training to maintain high standards of efficiency.

18 & 19 Court of Honour: Replies are not quite satisfactory and it is deduced that the Court of Honour is not understood properly by the majority.

Our opinion is that regular Court of Honour meetings must be held in all groups at least once a month.

The following subjects shall be dealt with at each meeting.

- (a) Review of work.
- (b) Planning of future work.
- (c) Distribution and execution of work
- (d) Camps and tests.
- (e) and other group activities.

20 & 21 Parental Co-operation: It is found from replies that parental co-operation has not been sought for, by most of the groups.

Recommended that each Scouter and Guider should contact the parents individually. Periodical Parents Evenings be arranged. Parents be given a share in the working of some of the activities of the group such as arrangements for Camps etc.

22, 23, 24, 25 & 26 Relation between Scouting and N.C.C. and A.C.C. in Schools:

Replies are very few concerning this. We are of the opinion that the Scouter and Guider should give undivided attention to the Scout work and not take up any other activity, since real Scouting needs a full time worker. Help of other Officers of movements like N.C.C., A.C.C., Red Cross and members of staff proficient in any specific subject may be utilised for the training of Scouts and Guides, 27 & 28: Most of the groups do not have any equipment. The minimum equipment needed for each section is as follows:

Cubs & Bulbuls

1. Scout Flag & National Flag.
2. Sixers box containing materials such as ropes, balls, skipping ropes etc.; for the various tests.

Scouts & Guides

1. Scout Flag & National Flag.
2. Similar box for each Patrol containing materials for tenderfoot test and Second Class Tests.

Rovers & Rangers

1. Scout Flag & National Flag. Similar materials for Rovers.

A compass, ruk sack for hiking etc., Map of the locality.

29 & 30: Many of the groups are not receiving any Scout magazines and a minimum number of books be made available to the Group by the Managements as indicated below:—

1. The Bharat Scouts and Guide Bulletin (State Bulletin).
2. Saranar (Tamil) other magazines such as 'Scouter', 'The Council Fire' etc.,

Groups should be encouraged to conduct group manuscript magazines. Scouters and Guiders be conversant with the following books given below:

A.P.R.O. Parts 1, 2, and 3. Scouting for Boys in India. Wolf Cub Hand Book. Rovering to Success. Scout tests and how to pass them.

Bulbul Hand Book. Girl Guiding in India. Patrol System. A book on Camping.

31, 32, 33, & 34: Financial Assistance from Managements for activities of groups appear to be not satisfactory. Attention of managements of Schools be drawn to G.O. No. 557—Education 29—3—57.

MADRAS STATE

Report for the year 1956-57

THE Bharat Scouts and Guides, Madras State has been making steady progress during the year under report. The Organisation has justified the step taken to integrate the two sections, Scouts and Guides under one administration. There is harmony and co-operation from the part of rank and file of the movement, Scouts, Guides and Officers which has enabled us to be active throughout the year, not only in carrying out regular Scout and Guide programmes but also take up new lines of activities such as Rural Camps and Community Service.

Our Scouts and Guides distinguished themselves by holding Camps at which more than, 1,275 Scouts and Guides rendered Service. This is an achievement of which the Bharat Scouts and Guides, Madras State can take a legitimate pride and feel happy that the movement has been of help in however humble a measure it might be, in the endeavours that are being made to build a New Country under the Five Year Plan of the Government of India.

5th Annual Meeting

The 5th Annual Meeting was held on 29th September, 1956. The Hon'ble Sri C. Subramaniam, Minister for Finance and Education presided. The Minister laid the foundation stone for the Guest House to be built at the State Headquarters at a cost of Rs. 23,000/- to provide accommodation and other facilities for Guests. Sri K. Venkataswami Naidu, State Chief Commissioner, welcomed the gathering and announced that Mrs. Clubwala Jadhav was appointed as International Commissioner for Guides and congratulated her on her new appointment. Miss G. R. Samuel, Headquarters Commissioner (Training) he said, took the place of Mrs. Clubwala Jadhav as State Commissioner Guides. Mr. V. S. Ratnasabnapathy, State Secretary, presented the Report which gave an account of various services undertaken by the Association during the past year. Mrs. Clubwala Jadhav, Mr. N. D. Sundaravadivelu, and Miss G. R. Samuel addressed the gathering.

Mr. Subramaniam, in his presidential address, emphasised the need for fostering self-discipline and spirit of unity among youth through welfare organisations. He said that this self-discipline should be built up through the Scouts and Guides.

movement, which also helped to develop the feeling of brotherliness with one another. The extra curricular and youth welfare activities were necessary for the mental make-up that was essential for facing problems of life successfully. Particularly, our youths should gain, the Minister said, that self-confidence which alone gives them the necessary mental make-up and help them attain the psychological attitude which was necessary for solving their most difficult problems.

Mr. Sathrasala Venkata Ram, State Treasurer, proposed a vote of thanks.

The successful meeting held provided an opportunity for workers to meet and exchange views and go back inspired, determined to carry on work in their respective areas even more efficiently than hitherto.

The morning session was held at the University Hall when Mr. H. B. Ari Gowder, M.L.A., Vice-President of the Association, presided. The Annual Report presented by the State Secretary was adopted.

The audited statement of account and budget for the year submitted by the Treasurer were also adopted.

The meeting adopted a resolution expressing its anxious concern over the prolonged illness of its President Dr. Rm. Alagappa Chettiar. Another resolution felicitated the State-Chief Commissioner, on his completion of 60 years of useful career. The third resolution congratulating Mrs. Clubwala Jadhav on her appointment as International Commissioner for Guides was also passed.

Another resolution wishing God-speed and good luck to the new reorganised States of Karnataka, and Kerala in which South Kanara and Malabar Districts were included was passed. Resolutions relating to the encouragement of open groups, facilities to be given to all employees of Government with respect to leave etc., and special concession to the employees of leading firms were also passed.

Our Officers

We would like to put on record the able direction and leadership given to the movement by the State Chief-Commissioner, Sri K. Venkataswami Naidu and the State Commissioners, Sri N. D. Sundaravivelu, State Commissioner, (Scouts) and Director of Public Instruction and Mrs. D. L. Gopalaratnam, (Acting) State Commissioner (Guides) in the place of Miss. G. R. Samuel, State Commissioner (Guides) on leave during the period ;

Our Assistant State Commissioners Messrs. V. C. Subbiah Gownder, Coimbatore, C. S. V. Ramani Karikkar (up to Dec. 1956); Palghat; T. R. Kothandarama Mudaliar, Madras; K. S. Seshadri, Kumbakonam in their respective areas; Our Headquarters Commissioners Mrs. Sundaravadivelu (Planning), Mrs. N. Walawalkar (Relations); Our Organising Commissioners, Messrs. J. I. Muthiah, M. Rajagopalan, M. Ram Mohan for the Scout section and Mrs. S. P. Pakianathan for the Guide section, by constantly touring the areas under their charge and advising the workers, in the work and development of the Association.

We should also thank Sri Sathrasala Venkata Ram, our State Treasurer, for the kind help he has been rendering in the matter of Finance.

We should specially mention the work done by the District and Assistant District Commissioners of both the sections, the various District Associations and the Local Associations besides the Scouters and Guides who form the backbone of the movement.

We are grateful to the Government, specially to Sri C. Subramaniam, Minister for Education and Finance for his continued support to our Organisation. We are thankful to Sri M. Baktavatsalam Minister for Rural Development and Messrs. N. E. S. Raghavachari and G. Venkatachalapathy and the respective District Collectors and Block Development Officers for their assistance in our Rural Camps during the summer. We could not have completed our projects satisfactorily if it were not for their help and guidance.

Our Strength

The total strength for this year registered is 52,683 of which Scouts are 41,519 and Guides 11,164. It would be found from the figures that there was an increase in the membership of the Organisation. While we are anxious to admit larger number of boys and girls into our movement, we are also emphasising on quality which should go side by side with the increasing of strength. It is hoped that it will be possible to increase the strength in the coming year if we are able to secure additional facilities.

Rural Service Camps by Scouts and Guides

On the same basis as last year, Summer Rural Service Camps were held this year also. There were in all 12 Camps taken by the Districts of Chingleput, South Malabar, Ramanathapuram, Madras South, Madras East, Madras West, Madras Central, North Arcot, Chingleput South and Madras North.

Mathurai, Coimbatore, Tanjore Districts though they also planned to have these camps, had to give up those camps, due to delay in getting the sanction of the Government of India for holding the camps.

In this connection a Camp Committee was formed consisting the State Chief Commissioner, State Commissioner (Scouts), Mrs Gopalratnam Mr. C. Amirthaganesan, State Treasurer Sri Sathrasala Venkata Ram, State Secretary, Sri V. S. Ratnasabhapathy, Sri M. Ram Mohan, Mrs. S. P. Pakianathan, Sri M. Rajagopalan and Sri J. I. Muthiah. The Committee scrutinized the applications and approved the camps. The Committee also fixed up a programme of visits by the Committee members to these various camps to scrutinize the accounts and advise the Camp Officers on the proper conduct of the camps.

The State Chief Commissioner visited the Camp in Salem and Camps in Chinglepet District. The State Treasurer, visited the camp in Ramanathapuram District. Sri C. Amirthaganesan visited the camps in Vellore and South Arcot Districts. The State Secretary visited the Camps in Malabar, Salem and in Chingleput Districts. Mrs. S. P. Pakianathan visited the camps in South Malabar District. Sri M. Ram Mohan visited all the camps in the Chingleput area while Sri M. Rajagopalan visited the camps in Ramanathapuram and South Arcot Districts and Sri J. I. Muthiah, the camp in Salem District.

We may say the various officers of the camps undertook their work very efficiently and completed the camps successfully. All the Camps made their own arrangements for supply of food as directed excepting one Camp.

Most of the camps are visited by distinguished officials and public men. The Deputy Minister for Railways Mr. O. V. Alagesan, in declaring open the $4\frac{1}{2}$ miles road made at Kandigai in Chingleput paid a tribute to the good work done by Scouts and Guides. Mr. V. R. Rajaratnam, Inspector General of Police, declared open the road made at Katrambakkam by the East Madras District. In other places also we have received appreciation both from the public, the villagers and the officials as well as the Block Development Department. Mr. G. Venkatachalapathy, Director of Rural Welfare and National Extension Service also visited a number of these camps.

The District Collectors of the respective Districts took keen interest in the projects undertaken by our Scouts and Guides.

Two Guide Camps were run, one in Sriperumbudur and another in South Malabar District. Both were visited by the State Secretary and they were found to be both efficient and well organised.

Due to the change of rules regarding the strength of the camp, restricting the numbers to 150 only for every camp, the total strength was reduced to less than half of the estimated strength. The delay in obtaining the permission also was responsible for not being able to secure the full strength of 150 in each camp. The strength therefore was 1,275 for all these twelve camps.

On the whole we are able to say that our camps were better organised this time than last year.

This type of work has become a regular feature and part of the official programme of our work every year. The benefits derived by our boys and girls in these camps, cannot be over-estimated. It is both educative and useful. We hope to, therefore, arrange to hold a camp in every District in the coming year, and thus lend a hand in the great task of re-building our country and her resources.

Social Education organisers Trained as Commissioners

A training course was held at Anaipet from 18-3-57 to 29-3-57 at which 40 men and 35 women organisers were given training as Commissioners. They worked under different patrols and went through the course successfully. The camp was run by Mr. M. Rajagopalan, State Organising Commissioner assisted by Mrs. Roy Chatterji, District Commissioner, Coimbatore. Miss H. S. Dharma aj of Madurai, Sri K. S. Sundaresan, Assistant Deputy Camp Chief, Nannilam, Sri K. Visweswaran, Assistant District Commissioner, Ramnad; Sri P. V. Ramakrishnan, Assistant Deputy Camp Chief, Nilakkottai and Pandit S. N. Misra and Sri S. K. V. Subburaj assisted the camp.

Dr. K. G. Ramabadrán, Dr. Miss. Kanakam Chandrasekaran, Sri D. P. Bagh of Bengal, Sri R. Srinivasan, Sri G. Ramachandran, Honorary Director, Gandhigram and Sri K. Ganesan took part in the camp activities. These Officers are drawn from various States in the country and the training it is hoped will enrich their experience and help them to do efficient work in their respective spheres.

Commissioners' Training Camp

A joint camp for Commissioners both Scouts and Guides was held at the Besant Scout Camping Centre, Adyar from 2nd April to 7th April, 1956. Sri V. S. Ratnasabhpathy assisted by Mr. J. I. Muthiah and Mrs. S. P. Pakiamathan, was the officer incharge of the course. Mr H. Ramanathan, District Commissioner, South Madras helped the course as Instructor and Sri K. Madhavan served as the quartermaster. The camp was attended by 23 campers of whom 5 were women. Regular programme relating to such camps was gone through and one afternoon was devoted to a visit to Mahabalipuram which is 5 miles from the camp site, much to the enjoyment of the campers.

Sri H. B. Ari Gowder, M.L.A., Vice-President of the Bharat Scouts and Guides, Madras State inaugurated the course. Sri N. D. Sundaravadivelu, Director of Public Instruction and State Commissioner (Scouts) addressed the campers. Sri K. Venkataswami Naidu, State Chief Commissioner presided over the inauguration and also gave the valedictory address to the campers. Mrs R. E. MacLaine Clarke, a member of the course thanked the State Chief Commissioner and the State Headquarters for organising the course.

Exchange Trainer from Australia

One of the outstanding events of the year is the Training Course run by Miss Joan Stevenson, the Exchange Trainer from Australia at the Besant Scout Camping Centre, Adyar. The first batch of 40 Guiders were trained both in Preliminary and Refreshers, in two groups. The second one was for the Commissioners. 22 Commissioners attended the course and from the enthusiasm of the Campers, one could declare that the camps were a success. We are grateful to Miss Joan Stevenson for this help. She is an able Trainer and as she said, she herself learnt while she trained others, thereby both being benefited. We can easily hope therefore for better results in the Guide Organisation throughout the State.

Tea Chest

We received a Tea Chest containing tinned food, soap, clothing etc., which was sent by the Guides of London to the Madras Guides to be distributed among the Refugees in Madras. Col. Gill the Officer in charge of the Refugee camp was contacted and a function was arranged on the 25th July, 1956 for the distribution of the contents of the chest to the Refugee children in Anderson Street, George Town. Miss G. Joseph, District Commissioner, North Madras kindly arranged her Guide company to draw up a programme for the day and the Guides undertook the distribution. The Late Maharani of Vizianagaram presided over the meeting. Mrs. M. C. Jadhav and Mrs. Walawalkar spoke to the children. Mrs. D. L. G. Ratnam and

Mrs. Sundaravadivelu were present. Photos taken on the occasion were sent to the London Guides. Col. Gill along with the Refugee children expressed their deep gratitude to the Guides of Madras and the Guides of London.

Blind Scouts and Guides

We have a Scout and Guide Group working in the Poona-malvi Blind School under the able direction of Mr. B. A. Nandagopaul, Principal of the School. The Guides and Scouts in these groups have given a very good report of themselves during the year. In spite of the handicap they were cheerful and played the game successfully. They have gone on camps and visited places of interest. It is good to realise that Scouting and Guiding has brought fresh joy into their life. The Association cannot but be too grateful to the Scouters and Guiders.

Besides this group, we have a group in the Senior Certified School at Chingleput. This has been in existence for over 25 years. The Head master informs us that Scouting has a definite influence in the shaping of the character and discipline of the juvenile offenders. A large number of Scouts took part in the rural Service Camps held during the last three years.

We need to take Scouting and Guiding into the spheres where we have handicapped children of other types.

Training of Officers

To man the growing organisation and to provide for the increasing demand for admission into the movement by boys and girls, training courses were held to train up a new set of Officers for the various sections. We have published elsewhere details of camps held in the various Districts. This year the total number trained is 736 of which 277 were women officers.

Camp Sites

The National Council decided to develop 80 camp sites in the country under the Second Five Year Plan. Madras was allotted six camp sites out of the grant available, each camp site will be given funds for equipments necessary.

We have the Stanley Park Training Centre at Coonoor which is fast developing into a Regional Camping Centre for the South. Certain improvements have been made and further work had to be taken up next year. Besides we have a Camp site at Salem and a site to be handed over to us at Courtallam (Tirunelveli District) and another site again to be handed over at Arni in North Arcot District. Madurai has made its choice of a site, and has applied for financial help. Tanjore and Coimbatore have also set about choosing Camp sites. There should be one very near Madras, the Corporation of Madras is proposing to develop a site for Madras. We have Evans Park in Tirunelveli District which is being managed by the Tuticorin Local Association. We have the Silver-fish Bungalow and site given by Miss. G. Pakenham Walsh, the most active District Commissioner Guides), at Tirunelveli. We hope when these are established there will be sufficient scope for Scouts and Guides throughout our State.

Centenary Celebrations

The hundredth Birth Annual Day of Lord Baden Powell was celebrated with great rejoicings throughout the States and throughout the country. The spontaneous manner in which every group took up the programme with enthusiasm showed the love and affection they had for the founder of the movement. Public meetings were held; Scout craft Exhibition, Camp-fire, rallies were undertaken. At the State Headquarters the celebration was conducted on 25-2-57 when Mr. A. J. John, Governor of Madras presided.

The Governor addressing the meeting said, "I would personally advocate a rather extended training in citizenship to cover as large a population as possible. To make democracy a success, the young should be given a certain amount of training in discipline and decorum orderly conduct and upright behaviour."

The Boy Scout and Girl Guide movement, among other such movements gave ample opportunities for the young citizen to acquire these qualities.

His Excellency the Governor, addressing the rally said, the Scout movement did not emerge in a day, but was the outcome of hard and incessant toil through long years. He was therefore led to think that both Lord and Lady Baden Powell were called into this world with a specific purpose — regular mission in life and was glad that they attained a remarkable success in the fulfilment of their great mission.

We are happy that His Excellency the Governor became the patron of the Organisation by giving a donation of Rs. 500/- to the Association. Mrs. John was also present at the Rally.

International Commissioners (Guides) Conference Asian Area

This is the first time in the history of the movement that an International Commissioners Conference was held in the Asian Area and particularly in India. This was held at New Delhi and was inaugurated by Pandit Nehru. The meeting was -a colourful one; truly representative of the International nature of our movement. Prime Minister Nehru, speaking at the gathering said that he had watched the progress of the movement and had appreciated its great value even though he himself was not a Scout in his early days; and wished the Conference success. In this connection there was a reception at the Rashtrapathi Bhavan when the President of the Indian Union addressed the Scouts and Guides.

Delegates from Australia, Burma, Egypt, India, Ceylon, Japan, Pakistan, Philippines, Singapore, United Kingdom and U.S.A. attended the Conference. The Conference proved a great success and helped to establish the movement on a firm basis in the region. Madras State was represented by the State Chief Commissioner (Guides), Mrs. MacLaine Clarke and Mrs. Walawalkar etc.

National Jamboree

A very successful National Jamboree was held at Jaipur in Rajasthan where more than 11,000 Scouts and Guides assembled and went through the Jamboree programme for five days. The Organisation was perfect and the spirit of the Jamboree was excellent. It is a great tribute paid to the movement of ours and to its value for the youths.

A contingent from Madras State consisting of 34 Scouts and 4 Scouters with Mr. J. I. Muthiah as Leader of the contingent attended the Jamboree. His report is published below:—

Madras Jamboree Contingent

Our Jamboree Contingent consisting of 34 Scouts and 4 Scouters left Madras on the 23rd morning and after halting for a day at Agra to see the Taj they proceeded and reached the Jamboree Campus on the 26th morning. The Jamboree began on the 27th morning and it was formally declared open by the Governor of Rajasthan in the evening.

From the 27th to 31st Dec. '56, we stayed in the Camp and participated in all the activities including competitions in Scoutcraft. On the 28th evening there was a Route March crowned with a Mayoral reception at the Museum. The morning Flag parades were attended by important dignitaries and everyone of them gave inspiring address to the Scouts and Guides assembled in the Ashok Arena. The subsequent two days were chiefly spent in sight-seeing and fraternisation.

On the 31st instant, a condolence meeting was held in memory of late Pandit Ravi Shankar Shukla, Chief Minister of the Madhya Bharat.

From the very beginning, the Patrol System was adopted and our contingent was converted into a Scout Troop with Sri James D. Isaac as Scoutmaster and Messrs. K. S. Sampath and K. Rajagopalan as Assistants and Sri R. Viswanathan as Quartermaster and Scribe of the Troop. Cooking in the Camp was carried on the Patrol System.

Leaving the Jamboree Camp on the evening of 1st January, 1957, we came to Delhi on 2nd January and spent two pleasant days at the Metropolis. Thence we took our homeward journey on the 4th noon and arrived at the Madras Central on the 6th evening.

On the whole, Scouts enjoyed themselves, visited many places of scenic and historic interest at Agra, Jaipur, and Delhi and were inspired by such a vast gathering of Scouts and Guides numbering nearly 11,000 and I am glad that our Scouts took part in various items of competitions and brought much credit to the State Association winning special standards for efficiency in almost all the items in which they participated. Special mention should be made of the best team work done by the Officers and they in co-operation with the Scouts contributed in no small measure to our success. I am very grateful to them all and particularly to our State Chief Commissioner and the State Secretary who gave me this unique opportunity for Scout Service.

Dr. Rm. ALAGAPPA CHETTIAR'S PORTRAIT UNVEILED

PRESENTED BY

DR. K. GIRIDHARA RAO,
District Commissioner, South Kanara

Tributes to the services rendered by Dr Rm. Alagappa Chettiar for the cause of education and the Scout movement were paid by speakers when his portrait was unveiled by Dr. A Lakshmanaswami Mudaliar at Wenlock Park, Triplicane, on 30-3-57.

Mr. K. Venkataswami Naidu, State Chief Commissioner, Bharat Scouts and Guides referred to Dr Chettiar's association with the Scout movement during the last two decades and the help he rendered in spreading the Scout movement in Madras.

Mrs. D. L. G. Ratnam, State Commissioner for Guides (acting) requested Dr. Lakshmanaswami Mudaliar to unveil the portrait.

Describing Dr. Chettiar as a "Prince among philanthropists" Dr. Lakshmanaswami Mudaliar said Dr Chettiar's interest in the Scout movement was abiding. If they were able to integrate the two Scout Organisations, which had been working on parallel lines in this country it was to a large extent due to his efforts. The Vice-Chancellor said, he had come across very few Indian educationists, who had started institutions devoted to spheres ranging from Children's education to scientific research. If the Madras University could today boast that quite a number of colleges were affiliated to it in recent years it was in no small measure due to the initiative taken by Dr. Alagappa Chettiar. If Karaikudi was today well known throughout the country it was because of the monumental munificence of Dr. Chettiar for the cause of educational Institutions there.

Mrs. Clubwala Jadhav, Sheriff of Madras, spoke of Dr. Chettiar's services to various public causes especially women's education.

Mr. Venkataswami Naidu accepted the portrait on behalf of the State Headquarters

Mr. V. S. Ratnasabhapathy, State Secretary proposed a vote thanks, and also read the messages received from Dr. K. Giridhara Rao, District Commissioner (Scouts), South Kanara who had presented the portrait and Mr. N. D. Sundaravadivelu, Director of Public Instruction.

Our President Dr. Rm. Alagappa Chettiar passes away

A meeting of the Workers was held at the State Headquarters on 11-4-57 under the presidency of the State Chief Commissioner Sri K. Venkataswami Naidu to express our deep sense of sorrow at the sudden demise of Dr. Rm. Alagappa Chettiar the President of the Bharat Scouts and Guides, Madras State. The following resolutions were passed all standing

1. The Bharat Scouts and Guides, Madras State expresses its deep sense of sorrow at the sudden demise of Dr. Rm. Alagappa Chettiar the President of the Bharat Scouts and Guides, Madras State on 5-4-57 whose services to the country in the field of Education and Scouting have been unique, and unsurpassed and whose great example, will always be a guide to the youth of the land.
2. Resolved further that the above resolution be conveyed to the members of his bereaved family.
3. To perpetuate the memory of Dr. Alagappa Chettiar in a suitable form, to serve as an inspiration to the Scouts and Guides of the State.

The National Scout and Guide Week (1st October to 7th October, 1956)

The Bharat Scouts and Guides celebrated the National Scout and Guide week from 1st October to 7th October 1956 throughout India. The main object of the Scout and Guide week was to focus the attention of the public on the value of Scout and Guide organisation to the young in the matter of training them to become good citizens of their Mother-Land. It was also taken advantage of, by the rank and file of the movement from the youngest Cub and Bulbul to the National Commissioner and President of the Association to demonstrate in their daily life throughout the week, how Scouting and Guiding had shaped their life to one of service and brotherhood.

The celebrations of the Week took the form of Inauguration Day with a public meeting at which a report of activities was presented and the educational value of the movement explained. Each day of the week was devoted as follows :—

Good Turn Day; the Camping Day; Heroes and Heroines Day (Founders, National and International Leaders). Entertainments Day, Animal's Day and Tree Planting Day.

It is during this week that the Birthdays of two great leaders fall. On the 1st of October, it is Dr. Besant's Birthday and the 2nd of October is the Birthday of Gandhiji. These two great leaders are mainly responsible for the freedom that our country has achieved and enjoying today. We owe to Dr. Besant for the existence of this movement of ours in this country. We therefore not only celebrate the two Birthdays of these two leaders but also draw inspiration from them for our work and service.

Ariyalur (Marudhiyar) Tuticorin Express Accident

Scouts rendered valuable help at the place of accident by removing the injured persons to the Ambulance van where First Aid was given. The dead bodies scattered all round the spot were collected by them while a number of them engaged themselves in extricating the bodies buried under the debris. Another party crossed two Casuarina topes submerged under 4 feet depth of water and brought dead bodies washed away by the current. This timely help by our Scouts and Rovers of the Dalmia Institute and the Schools was very much appreciated by the public and the Railway authorities.

Sub Committee on Better Scouting and Guiding

In a progressive and growing movement like the Bharat Scouts and Guides there is always room for improvement. It is therefore found necessary to review our work from time to time in order that we may relate it to our requirements. There is need to infuse fresh life into the organisation periodically to help us to go forward with greater efficiency, speed, and in a true Scout and Guide spirit to enable us to confer increasing benefits on larger number of youths. With this object in view a Sub-Committee consisting of Dr. K. G. Ramabhadran, Mrs. D. L. G. Ratnam, Mr. K. S. Seshadri, Mr. J. I. Muthiah and Mr. V. S. Ratnasabhapathy as convener was constituted. The Committee issued a questionnaire to Scouters and Guiders and to Commissioners Local and District Associations, and on the basis of the answers received the Committee has submitted a report giving valuable suggestions for the improvement and development of the movement.

Money Raising Campaign by Guides

A Dance and Cabaret was organised by Mrs. D. L. Gopalratnam with the help of Mrs. Hayden, Mrs. Shenoy, Mrs. P. Chalam, Mrs. Srinivasa Rao, Mrs. Braem, Mrs. G. Miller, Mrs. Jadhav, Mrs. Walawalkar, Mrs. Lalitha Jayaram at the Connemara Hotel on August 3rd 1956. The Maharani of Vizianagaram presided on the occasion and a gross income of Rs. 2,762/- was made. We are thankful to the following who took part and made the function a success: (1) Gymkhana Band (2) Trumpet Solo and Swiss quartet by the Swiss gentleman of the Integral Coach Factory, Piano recital by Mr. Handel Manuel; Dances of

India by Miss Lalitha Rao and Miss Pramila Rao and jokes by Mr. Keyser, Mrs Walawalkar and Mr. Hayden

Periodical Conference with the Minister

In connection with our work Periodical Conferences are held with the Minister for Education and Finance and the Chief officers of the State, when we go into the details regarding the work done by the movement and the steps to be taken to strengthen and develop the Organisation in all aspects. This Conference is responsible for getting the support and guidance of Education Minister who is also the Minister incharge of Finance, as well as the support of the Government & the Director of Public Instruction, who is also our State Commissioner. We are grateful to the Minister for Education the Hon'ble Sri C. Subramaniam for his help and encouragement to our Movement.

Co-operation with Kindred Organisations

It is our object to work in co-operation with the movements which have similar objects in view. To mention a few, The Guild of Service. The Seva Samajam Boys Home. The School of Social Work, The Food Council, The Indian Conference of Social Work, The Red Cross Society, The Teachers Guild, The Central Social Welfare Board, The Youth Hostels Association and the other organisations with whom we co-operated during the year for the purpose of co-ordination and common work.

International Visitors

During the year under report we have had the pleasure of receiving and entertaining a large number of visitors from other countries. Their presence among us has certainly helped to emphasise the International aspect of our movement. More such visitors are to be welcomed. The distinguished visitors were Major General D. C. Spry, C.B.E., D.S.O. C.D., Director of the Boy Scouts International Bureau; Miss Joan Stevenson from Australia; Miss Anstice Gibbs from England; Miss Lillian Mitchell from Australia; Mrs. Lily Emmanuel from Malaya; Mrs Room from Australia; Mile. Yvonne Cuenod from Switzerland and Miss Viragyam from Ceylon.

Conclusion

In conclusion we should like to say that the movement is continuing its good work inspite of the fact that we do not have adequate finance to extend our activities. This good work is greatly due to the help rendered by the Scouters, Guiders and Commissioners. The Districts have their own Organisation and Local Associations functioned fairly well. Given the co-operation both from the public and the Government, it will be possible to increase our strength and cater to the needs of a larger number of the youths of the country.

TEN REASONS

WHY YOU SHOULD SUPPORT

THE BHARAT SCOUTS AND GUIDES

1. B.S.G. insists on and is worked under, Indian leadership just as the English Scout Organisation and the American Scout Organisation insist on English and American leadership.

2. The B.S.G. provides for the education of Indian children in practical citizenship on Indian lines, keeping fully in view the requirements of Indian boys and girls and preparing its programme of training and work to meet Indian conditions.

3. The B.S.G. makes full use of Indian stories, folklore, customs, traditions, songs and yells in order to inspire Indian boys and girls to be worthy citizens of the Motherland.

4. The B.S.G. interprets Scouting and Guiding to boys and girls in their own mother-tongue so that they can easily understand its full significance. It also uses drill commands and signalling methods etc., in Hindi as part of its methods of Indianising Scouting and Guiding for Indian children.

5. The B.S.G. realises the importance of villages in the real make up of the country and therefore, pays adequate attention to village scouting and guiding to service in villages by its Scouts and Guides.

6. The B.S.G. encourages hero-worship and therefore urges the naming of Troops after the great men and women of India who will always remain as ideals before our boys and girls.

7. The B.S.G. encourages Scouts and Guides to give preference to Indian product.

8. The B.S.G. Flag, with its blue back-ground and the fleur-de-lis, the Trefoil and the Asoka Chakra stands for brotherhood, National and International and also for purity and service. The blue colour indicates the universality of the all enveloping sky, the Chakra is the national emblem and the 24 spokes of the wheel representing the 24 hours of dedicated service, every day-

9. The B.S.G. takes full advantage of the "Good Turn" idea and therefore prepares and encourages Scouts and Guides to perform national service even under difficult and trying circumstances such as epidemics, flood, famine etc. and also on occasions of big fairs in the country. It has a splendid record of services performed by Scouts and Guides.

10. The B.S.G. being a movement conducted for the children of India by the people of India, is ever vigilant about the special need of the hour and consequently it modifies its scheme and methods of training in order to keep pace with the changing circumstances when-ever necessary.

HOPE HOLDS THE KEY

Hope holds the key that will unlock the Gateways of another year. She ventures forth into the future knowing neither doubt nor fear. She hastens forward unafraid, the Golden Key is in her hand. She beckons us to follow her into the new and unknown land.

Hope can see across horizons, far beyond our range of sight. Hope can see God in the darkness, in the depth and in the height. Let us send her on ahead to make the pathway bright and clear before we go upon our journey out into another year.

PATIENCE STRONG.
